Front-End

Back-End

3 products are available, user can select one

User selects one product

Payment options appear

User selects a payment option

Product ID is sent to the server

Server creates on order, with thatus: created and responds with the order id

Client receives the order ID and confirms the purchase, then sends the order ID to the server

Server confirms with Paypal that the order has been paid, then updates the database,

User is invited to book a lesson